RAY PENNINGTON

Pennington declares for tax assessor

Ray Pennington of Waveland this week became the second candidate to announce his intention to seek the post of Hancock County Tax Assessor-Collector. The position is expected to be declared vacant in January due to the resignation of George Heitzmann, effective Dec. 31. The resignation will necessitate a special election to fill out two years of the unexpired term.

The candidate is presently employed as a control clerk with the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and as a tax return specialist with H & R Block, Bay St. Louis.

An active committeeman on the board of directors of L & N's Employees Federal Credit Union, New Orleans, he previously served for four years in the United States Navy - three years overseas, and as a purchasing agent with Sun Airlines.

Married to the former Karen Bilbo, he is a graduate of Bay High School and earned his degree in computer science from the Louisiana Technical Institute, following his attending Jefferson Davis Junior College where his major was business administration and computer science.

Pennington is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R.L. (Red) Luxich of Kün and is the father of two children, Sheri and Rachel, and the foster father of Joseph Wagoner.

CAP gains action rights in Hancock

by JAKE JACOB

The Community Action Agency program (CAP) was authorized to function in Hancock County as a division of their Harrison County office, Monday, when supervisors on a roll call vote cast a unanimous count in favor of such a move.

Supervisors had taken the matter under advisement late last month after hearing from CAP's Harrison County Executive Director Doyl Moffett, Planning and Public Relations Officer Jack Different, and Clovis Williams, Governor's Office of Economic Opportunity and Human Resources.

Moffett told the supervisors at that time that Hancock lacked sufficient population to qualify for an agency of its own but could operate as a division or arm of the adjacent district.

Prior to taking the vote this week, Board President Alton A. Kellar of Beat 2 said the operation is totally funded by the government and its services would not cost the county one penny.

CAP is primarily funded through the Community Services Administration and is a community oriented activity, according to Moffett.

Different, in a statement following Monday's favorable vote, outlined the initial effort to be brought to the county by his agency.

the next regularly scheduled school board meeting.

"This is a milestone," said an elated Andrews Wilkinson, president of the Bay St. Louis Federation of Teachers, following a compromise agreement between the teachers and the board placing the teacher group on the agenda of a 6 p.m. board meeting Monday, Dec. 12.

"For the first time, teachers have stayed together and taken a stand," Wilkinson said after the teachers balked at suggestions they be heard in executive session, at an irregular meeting, or a late hour.

Board member Robert Hamilton suggested teachers meet with the board at 9 p.m. Monday, following the transaction of regular business.

"Nothing is more important than this issue which is upsetting our school every day," said teacher Nell Woodall as she objected to the suggestion teachers receive consideration secondary to routine board business.

"I think I can settle this," said Board President Virginia Gex, adding, "I don't want to start at 9 p.m. and have you too tired to teach my children the next day."

Ms. Gex huddled with other board members at that point, and came up with the proposal to have teachers placed first on the agenda of the regular monthly board meeting at 6 p.m. Monday, one and one-half hours earlier than the normal meeting time of 7:30 p.m., and some three hours ahead of the Hamilton suggestion.

"If we can't settle the matter between 6 and 7:30 p.m.," Mrs. Gex said, "we can always continue after we handle the other agenda items."

The Monday night meeting this week was scheduled by Mrs. Gex after Superintendent J. D. McCulloch had received a letter from the North Bay Elementary teachers requesting they be placed on the agenda of the regular board meeting Dec. 12.

Mrs. Gex said she was "concerned with the time element" in allowing the teachers a full hearing at the special gathering of board members, and teachers Monday, rather than placing them on the regular agenda.

But Billy Sanders, North Bay sixth grade teacher and spokesman for the group, said teachers were advised to make no statements Monday night since an attorney retained by Ms. Woodall could not be present.

Miss. Power ok to weather coal strike, winter loads

Perry Gibson, manager, Mississippi Power Company, Bay St. Louis, this week issued a statement by Victor J. Daniel, Jr., president of his company.

"Unless there is a prolonged strike in the coal industry, Mississippi Power Company does not anticipate any unusual problems in providing its customers with the electric service they require during the winter months, which are normally periods of reduced load levels on the company system."

"Mississippi Power Company normally stockpiles a 120-day supply of coal at Plant Watson, or approximately 395,000 tons, based on a budgeted burn of 3,292 tons a day. As of December 2, the company's present coal stockpile was in excess of 564,200 tons, or about 170 days consumption."

"The company's aggregate installed generating capacity is 1,965,760 kilowatts, of which 950,000 kilowatts or 48.3 percent, is fired by coal. The balance of the company's generating capacity utilizes oil and some natural gas as primary boiler fuel. In late 1978 when unit one at the Daniel Electric Generating Plant is converted from oil to coal firing, 73.8 percent of the company's generating capacity will be coal fired."

"The status of Mississippi Power Company's fuel supply continues to receive constant review and evaluation. At the present time, we do not anticipate any unusual problems in providing our customers with electric service. Certainly, the situation could change at some future date if a prolonged coal strike occurs."

Daniel also outlined the company's general background concerning the utilization of coal as a primary boiler fuel.

He said that on March 22, 1945, Mississippi Power Company's first high pressure steam-electric generating unit, began operation at Plant Eaton near Hattiesburg. It burned natural gas as fuel because gas was cheap and readily available. Other gas-fired units were added over the system, and by 1962, the Company had some 409,500 kilowatts of installed capacity, using natural gas at the primary fuel and oil as an emergency fuel.

In the mid-1960's natural gas was no longer as plentiful and its price has risen to a level where coal became competitive in cost. At that point, Mississippi Power made the decision to design and build future steam-electric generating units to burn fuels other than natural gas.

Mississippi Power Company and its affiliate on the Southern electric system, Alabama Power Company, entered into a joint agreement for construction and operation of the coal-fired Greene County Steam Plant near Demopolis, Alabama. Mississippi Power owns 40 percent of the plant, is entitled to 40 percent of the electric energy produced at the facility, and is responsible for 40 percent of the operating costs, including the cost of fuel. On June 11, 1965, the first of two 250,000-kilowatt generating units at Greene county began operation followed in 13 months by the second unit.

Two years later, on July 20, 1968, a 250,000-kilowatt generating unit was placed into operation at Plant Watson between Biloxi and Gulfport. This was (Continued On Page 8A)

Sportswriters name Loiacano coach of year

J.E. Loiacano of Bay St. Louis, former coach of the Bay High Tigers, present coach of the Big Eight Conference Champion Gulfport Admirals, has been named Mississippi's high school football coach of the year.

Loiacano was named to the honor by the Mississippi Sportswriters Association, this week following his team's earlier defeat of Greenville, 27-14, to earn the championship.

In the Associated Press Pre-Poll, the Admirals started the season with top billing and ended in the same slot with an 11-1 record.

The coach of the year joined Gulfport East High School after five years at Bay High. His team last year finished 10-1 before it merged with Gulfport where he was named head football coach of the combined teams.

Loiacano is a graduate of Mississippi State where he was a running back and linebacker. A star fullback at St. Stanislaus, he was an All-American Junior College player while he attended Pearl River Junior College. Since leaving college, Loiacano played two years professional football for the Canton, Ohio Bulldogs as defensive captain.

Oyster pirating claimed, MMCC to check reef lines

The director of the Mississippi

Corps to open NASA-NSTL conversion bids

Bids to two projects scheduled for NASA's National Space and Technology Laboratories, Hancock County, will be opened Dec. 13, by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Mobile District.

A total of six construction job bid openings will be staged by the Mobile District in mid-December.

The NASA-NSTL project includes major alterations to two buildings and involves their conversion into additional office space and a conference center.

Bids, on all projects to be opened this month will be restricted to small business concerns to assure such firms a fair share of government contracts, the bid notice allowed.

Marine Conservation Commission and a Gulf Coast Research Institute biologist today will take a first hand look into allegations state leases have been illegally granted on natural oyster reefs in the Mississippi Sound off Bayou Caddy.

Dr. Richard Leard, MMCC director, and biologist Bill Demoran will take samples in disputed lease areas near the Buccaneer and St. Joe natural reefs.

Clermont Harbor-Lakeshore area fishermen have filed a test case which brings into question the legality of state leases issued under the 1976 oyster transplant law.

Two lease-holders have filed trespass charges against several other Bayou Caddy-area oyster fishermen. But the defendants maintain bottomlands on which they are accused of intruding are natural oyster reefs rather than transplanted reefs.

The fishermen say one boat can harvest the daily limit of 42 sacks in two hours, an abundance they claim is not possible from a transplanted reef.

The 1976 state law setting up state leases in which to transplant and harvest oysters in non-polluted waters specifically forbids the issuance of a lease over natural oyster reefs.

Lucien Gex, commission attorney, said if it is determined the leases involve natural reefs, "...we will have to terminate the leases."

Southwest county high school feasibility group here today

by JAKE JACOB

A State Department of Education, Office of Planning and Evaluation team, headed by Jerry R. Hutchinson, co-ordinator, is due here today, to meet with county school officials regarding the feasibility of constructing a second high school in the southwest section of the district.

The Jackson group will meet with the Hancock County School Board at 6 p.m. at their office in the Youth Court Building on Court Street, Bay St. Louis, to review the proposition, along the subject of board discussion and parental want.

The evaluation is at this time to specify the types of activities necessary for completion, of a feasibility study, and the time frame such a study requires.

The board will also open Hancock North Central cafeteria bids during the session, to hopefully embark upon another long awaited project.

Board Attorney Joseph Gex on Monday advanced several alternatives open to the board to pursue their action with the state concerning payments for 16th Section leases to oil companies, when such lease encompasses areas falling within state administered wetlands.

At stake, initially, is some $175,638.33 bid for mineral rights by Saga Oil Co., on 537 acres lying to the south of In- (Continued On Page 8A)

issued by USCP

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, in cooperation with H-G Toys of Long Beach, N.Y., today warned consumers of a possible defect in "Par-Golf Toy Golf Clubs," model numbers 721 and 723. Because of faulty staple assembly, the club's metal rod may separate from its handle when swung and thus be propelled into anyone who may be standing in the rod's path.

The models in question were shipped into commerce before May 1, 1977. They bear a single staple which fastens the club rod to the handle.

Consumers who have purchased the model 721 or 723 toy golf clubs are urged to carefully examine them to make sure the rod is securely attached to the handle. If the connection is weak, consumers are instructed to discontinue use and may return the clubs to their retailer for refund or replacement.

The toy clubs are packaged in pairs along with two golf balls on a cardboard backing labeled "Par Golf" and "H-G Toys." No identifying markings appear on the clubs or balls themselves. The model 721 and 723 clubs were distributed nationwide and retail from about $1.50 to $2.50 in specialty and variety stores.

It is not currently known how many of the toy clubs are still available for purchase by consumers since the products were marketed primarily for sale during the summer season.

Consumers who desire additional information should write to H-G Toys, Inc., 750 Park Place, Long Beach, N.Y. 11561.

ADVENT PRAYER

A prayer to be said before the Advent wreath, the third week of Advent, Dec. - 11

"Father in heaven the day draws near when the glory of Your Son will make radiant the night of the waiting world. We move the things that hinder us from receiving Christ with joy, so that we may share His wisdom and become one with Him when He comes. Hear our prayer, Father, and prepare once again a world for Your Son, Who lived and reigned with You and the Holy Spirit one God forever and ever. Amen."

Summons, fines promised

State to monitor illegal roadside garbage dumping

by JAKE JACOB

A move by the State Board of Health to monitor solid waste dumping may result in Hancock County residents being taken to court and charged with being in violation of the Solid Waste Act of 1974. Fines provided for under the act range from $50 to $500, depending on the nature and frequency of the violation.

Jack McMillan, director, Solid Waste Management, with the state department, yesterday made known his intention of utilizing his own personnel to track down and summons violators.

The State Board of Health announcement follows that of the Hancock County supervisors who last week announced closure of the Bayou La

Croix Sanitary Land Fill, effective yesterday. This action was the result of their receiving a series of government demands over the last several months which climaxed in a letter from Melvin W. Dovith, chief, Real Estate Division, Corps of Engineers, dated Nov. 10, directing the supervisors halt the dumping of garbage at the site "immediately."

Failure to comply to the demand, according to Dovith, would probably result in the county being denied use of any government-owned lands for the purpose of sanitary landfill.

The Bayou La Croix landfill operation, was under special permit from the real estate division of the Corps of Engineers due to its being located within the confines of the NASA Buffer Zone.

In its stead the supervisors have opened a new dump at Catahoula, also under special Corps license.

McMillan said this week the Solid Waste Act of 1974 specifies that dumping should occur only in authorized areas and that trucks and other vehicles hauling garbage should be properly covered to prevent littering of streets and highways.

McMillan said the increase in the amount of illegal dumping and the overflow of garbage along the roads in Mississippi have made it necessary for the State Board of Health to take action against violators.

Personnel from the Solid Waste Management Program will be making routine investigations of problem areas in the state.

"Persons found violating the Solid Waste Act will be subject to fines ranging from $50 to $500," McMillan said.

The Dovith letter also included reference to State Board of Health Requirements, calling for the Bayou La Croix dump and its approaches to be restored to the condition demanded by the state agency, prior to abandonment by the supervisors.

Further, the letter indicated, such action must be taken within 30 days otherwise not only would be county be in violation of its old permits, the new Corps license for the Catahoula operation may be affected.

Supervisors who earlier stated they would be in full compliance well within the time frame offered by the Corps, this week invoked the emergency statute to the new landfill site, open the door for their obtaining quotes on a eight foot high, barb-wire topped 40-foot enclosure for equipment storage. This, they felt, would be better than fencing the dump and closing after hours.

"Close the dump after hours and people will dump garbage all over the road and in front of the gate," supervisors reasoned.

Cost of the landfill is split between the county and the two municipalities, with Hancock paying 50 percent, Bay St. Louis, 30 percent, and Waveland, 20 percent.

The new Catahoula Sanitary Landfill operation is located some five miles west of the flashing light on Highway 603, Kiln.

The state department in its warning concerning solid waste dumping inferred its intention to monitor access roads to both the old and new locations, as well as the sites themselves.

DEATH CAR - This heap of metal is the remains of the vehicle Mrs. Willene C. Bradley, Gulfport was killed in early Saturday morning across the Bay bridge. Dave Burch, owner of Dave's Wrecker Service, said that it took three hours to untangle the vehicle from the trees struck in the mishap. Mississippi Highway Safety officer B. R. Sibley, said Mrs. Bradley was traveling east on U.S. 90 when she apparently lost control of her car and struck several trees after jumping the neutral ground along U.S. 90 near Ponce deLeon Boulevard, Henderson Point. Bathroom drugs cited as habit forming by UM

Those prescription drugs on the shelf of the bathroom medicine cabinet may be just as habit-forming as unauthorized street drugs, according to research by the Department of Pharmacology at The University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy.

Incomplete findings of research on minor tranquilizers, which are commonly used modern sedatives, show a potential for abuse, said Dr. Marvin Davis, chairman and professor of pharmacology at Ole Miss.

The research is being conducted under contracts from the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

"There can be serious problems with prescription drugs as well as with street drugs," said Dr. Davis. "The institute is concerned with misuse of minor tranquilizers because they are heavily prescribed."

"Some physicians have criticized the extent to which the medical profession in general is prescribing minor tranquilizers," he added. "Already the institute is aware of some problem, and has begun to warn against excessive reliance on tranquilizers as a solution to tensions and anxieties."

HEALTH ALLIANCE

Dr. Jimmy R. Chambless, associate professor of health, physical education and recreation at Ole Miss, was elected president of the Mississippi Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation at the group's recent annual convention.

The research at Ole Miss involves studying the effects of minor tranquilizers on the behavior of animals, according to Dr. Davis. The drug is given to an animal, and a behavioral profile is then made to determine the effects of the tranquilizer.

"If results of the behavioral profile of animals show a possibility for dependence upon minor tranquilizers, we can predict the same behavior in humans," Dr. Davis said. After having been given the drug earlier, rats are given the opportunity to take it again voluntarily. If the animals do take it voluntarily, the drug is considered to be a reinforcer, an indication that it may be habit-forming, according to Dr. Davis.

"We think that the overall answer will be that, yes the minor tranquilizers are reinforcers," Dr. Davis said. He said the only one of the minor tranquilizers has been tested so far, and that it did show reinforcement.

"We really are evaluating whether minor tranquilizers are reinforcers, and if so, how strong the reinforcement properties are compared with the effects of better-known drugs studied at the University in earlier behavioral profiles."

"We're not far enough along to rank the minor tranquilizers precisely on strength of reinforcement, but they will perhaps be similar to alcohol." He added that developing a dependency upon minor tranquilizers would probably be less likely than developing a dependency upon amphetamines or morphine. This is the fourth year the Department of Pharmacology has conducted research under contracts from the National Institute on Drug Abuse. Research began in May 1974 with study of some 12 compounds of three types of street drugs not prescribed for medical use.

Since then, emphasis has shifted to research on minor tranquilizers using methodology developed in earlier studies.

Holidays and Winter Days

HOLIDAYS and winter days—the season for entertaining and sharing with family and friends. One nice way to entertain is at a tree-trimming party, post-holiday or bowl game party. Treat guests to an easy buffet built around a mouth-watering main dish soup. For delicious recipe ideas, write to:

Memo: To Santa

ACCORDING to a survey taken by the Dell O'mo Research Bureau of San Francisco, liquors are again the most popular Christmas giving gift item. The company listed among the favorite holiday items Drambuie, Courvoisier, Tia Maria, Peter Heering, Applejack, Scagada, Booth's Gin, and Sandeman ports and sherries among the best known. These and other brands come in special Christmas gift wrappings.

Keep Toys Working

TOO MANY Christmas toys end up unused because of squeaky or stuck parts. This year, keep toys working with WD-40. It loosens and lubricates stuck parts. Non-greasy, WD-40 leaves no residue to stain children's clothing or furniture and is harmless to most painted surfaces. WD-40 is available in handy spray cans at your local stores.

Bake Better—With Less Fat—With Cocoa

HOLIDAY time means luscious desserts, and that means chocolate. But did you know you can substitute unsweetened cocoa for baking chocolate in any recipe, cutting down on saturated fat. 3 level tablespoons of cocoa plus 1 of shortening (use polyunsaturated oil or margarine) equals 1 ounce baking chocolate. The cocoa bonus—your cakes and other festive goodies will be richer, moister, more chocolatey!

The 1978 assessment may open doorway to school consolidation

The advantages to be gained in Hancock County by consolidation of school systems is obviously not going to be even investigated by all local school authorities, in spite of rising costs, increased tax bills, and their responsibility to the community.

It is interesting to note however, that while the head is in the sand in one bucket, the birds of the other feather are at least spreading their plumes in the opening move of courtship.

Talk now has shifted from the former Interstate 10 South plans one through four, with those actively pursuing a method of increasing educational opportunities throughout the county now tagging two plans simply "consolidation," and "super consolidation."

Neither are particularly new, but with the administrative changes now occurring within the county system in regard to curriculum and graduation requirements, their significance is of import.

The consolidation plan seeks for the merger of the county school system with the City of Waveland, while the super consolidation, of course, concerns the merger of all schools within the county into one system.

The kickers to the proposal are that with the rising assessment of both the City of Waveland and the County of Hancock, the exercise of sound fiscal policy may well produce an adequacy of funds to both build the intended South County High School, in a location adjacent to Waveland, and provide an adequate operations budget.

Too, proponents are led to believe that with a combining of Waveland to the county, transportation for all students will then be made available under the mantle of the system.

The advantages of this latter point to parents having children living in the outer reaches of Waveland, now being forced to either transport their offspring to St. Joseph Street and the Old Spanish Trail, will score heavily in their attitude. Transportation, combined to an availability of local high school offering equal or better courses than present accommodation, plus an equal representation on the governing board, may well add up to voter favor.

Opinion/Ellis Cuevas

It shouldn't stop

High school football closing means the stop of support by most parents and students to sporting activities.

These folks fail to realize that there are six months left on the school calendar and basketball is now in full swing. Baseball, track and other sporting competition comes in the spring.

School programs in basketball, baseball, track, tennis, etc. need your support just like football.

For an evening of enjoyment (basketball games being played inside gymnasiums are comfortable compared to football out in the elements) - why don't you go see your favorite team play and give them your support.

Basketball coaches put players through a lot of practice to make them play as a team, we are sure your support in the stands will be welcomed and appreciated by all, and remember, basketball is played by girls as well as boys.

MTA endorses 55 mph limit

James Finch, Commissioner of Public Safety, praised the Mississippi Trucking Association (MTA) today for adopting a resolution in support of the 55 miles per hour speed limit.

According to a letter received by Finch, the Board of Directors of the MTA is notifying their members urging "strict compliance" with the national speed limit. This is the first time the MTA has endorsed the 55 mph limit.

MTA's letter to Finch reads, "We are urging you and the entire Mississippi Highway Patrol to continue strict enforcement of this law with a greater emphasis on truck enforcement. We pledge our complete support in all of your programs for highway safety."

Figures supplied by the Motor Vehicle Comptroller's Office show that an estimated 7,600 trucks (18-wheelers) licensed to carry 73,000 pounds are registered in Mississippi for both intrastate and interstate travel.

Mississippi State Highway Department statistics show that the average speed of 18-wheelers on Mississippi's highways, as of June 30, 1977, was 59.9 mph, while the average automobile speed was 59.6.

The Highway Department monitored

the speed of 403 of the large trucks on the State's highways and 75 percent were traveling over the 55 mph limit; 43.9 were going over 60 mph and 12.4 percent were traveling over 65 mph. Average interstate travel speed for trucks was 60.5 mph while automobiles traveled at the average speed of 59.9 mph.

The commissioner said that speed is not the major cause of accidents in Mississippi, "however, speed increases both the risk of injury and the severity of injuries sustained when an accident occurs. Speeding also magnifies the effects of alcohol, faults in tires and headlights, and any inadequacies in road design or driver behavior. The probability of a fatality in a crash roughly doubles as traveling speed increases from 45 to 60 mph and doubles again as the speed goes to 70 mph."

Finch said, "The 55 mph law was born out of a national effort to save fuel and help reduce our energy dependence. We did not make the law, but we are charged with its enforcement. Hopefully, the MTA's endorsement will bring about a renewed effort by all motorists to be constantly aware of the speed at which they travel."

North Bay...

Mississippi Education Association representative Burt Barrett said he had helped Ms. Woodall retain James Galloway of Gulfport, a MEA attorney.

Barrett said the attorney was retained with the understanding teachers would appear at the Dec. 12 meeting, and was out of town on other business this week.

Galloway's father, a member of the Gulfport firm, reportedly told Ms. Woodall in the younger attorney's absence, that speaking out unrepresented at Monday's meeting could jeopardize her position.

The school board, North Bay Principal Billy Sills, and Ms. Woodall were threatened with legal action at a November school board meeting by attorney Charles Sykes representing the parents of Marty Favre, ten-year-old North Bay pupil who allegedly was the victim of excessive corporal punishment at the school.

"After several meetings at North Bay, and in view of adverse publicity, our attorney has advised we refrain from discussion of this issue until Dec. 12 in order not to jeopardize the positions of these teachers and other teachers in Mississippi," Sanders told the gathering in the Bay High School cafeteria Monday night.

"We might have a teacher and a principal facing a law suit," Barrett said in suggesting options open to the teachers Monday night.

"You could present your position in this public meeting; you could request the board hear your side of the story in executive session to protect yourselves; or you could meet with the board at some later time," Barrett said.

"Due to the importance of these teachers, and since their attorney has recommended they not speak at this meeting, you should move other business aside and let teachers speak at the regular meeting next Monday," Wilkinson stated.

Included in "other business" expected to be on this month's agenda is the question of school board recognition of organized teacher groups and representatives.

The board postponed action on the question at the November meeting due to the absence of Hamilton.

Present board policy prohibits recognition of any organized groups.

"I would rather extend recognition to all groups than to none at all," said board member Jean Townsend when she raised the issue at last month's meeting.

"All of us should have the same goals - the good of the children," Ms. Woodall said Monday night.

"We have followed all normal channels prior to asking to meet with the board, and we appear here in a spirit of cooperation," she continued.

"We sincerely seek to settle this issue for the good of the children and all teachers, and we believe you are also interested in settling the matter," Ms. Woodall stated.

Prior to the open meeting in the high school cafeteria Monday night, the board gathered in the superintendent's office adjacent to the board meeting room with McCullough, board attorney Sam Favre and Sanders.

"There were complaints which we found necessary to investigate thoroughly," Favre said at that gathering.

"We found no evidence of harsh or unreasonable punishment, but we did find there were a few teachers who were not in compliance with all of the school board policies," Favre continued, adding, "There's not any more for us to do, it's up to Favre (Curtis Favre, father of Marty Favre) now." The board attorney's remarks closely followed the board's position outlined in a board report published last week on the investigation findings.

Curtis Favre said he is not satisfied with the board's findings, and will seek the advice of a psychiatrist on alleged emotional disturbances suffered by his son.

"If the doctor feels these problems are related to the whippings Marty received at school, then I'll be talking to our attorney again," Curtis Favre said after the board issued its report.

The request to present an "unheard side of the story" by four North Bay teachers was forwarded to the board through Sills and McCullough.

Sills, who has been teaching on Monday evenings at Pearl River Junior College, reportedly will attend the Dec. 12 meeting.

In addition to Ms. Woodall, the other North Bay teachers presenting the formal request to be heard at the Dec. 12 board meeting are Linda Turner, Rose Lewis and Thaddeus Williams.

Other North Bay teachers have indicated they will also appear at the Dec. 12 meeting, "in an attempt to achieve a better understanding between the board and the faculty of this school."

After the teachers received assurances from Ms. Gex that they would be heard at 6 p.m. Dec. 12, McCullough dismissed the cafeteria meeting and summoned board members to his office for another private gathering.

Ms. Townsend and McCullough said board members were meeting in the superintendent's office to pose for yearbook pictures, but the photographer apparently never showed up.

Oyster reefs...

Gex said a natural reef is legally defined as one where oysters have been harvested commercially for the past ten years.

The Waveland attorney said boundary definitions over water are not as easily determined as on land, adding there also seems to be some overlapping of leases and claiming of the same areas by neighboring leaseholders.

The charges filed by one leaseholder have been dropped and those of the other are continued until 7 p.m. Wednesday in Beat One Justice Court of Lee B. Klein's.

Judge Klein said if the commission director and the GCRI biologist determine the leases in question are over natural reefs, the trespass charges will become moot.

But the judge said in either case, all parties concerned will be required to appear in his court Wednesday.

"This is all a new situation arising under new laws, and I want to make sure all fishermen involved realize the seriousness of violating these laws," Klein said.

"I want to stress to all of them that they are dealing with laws calling for a $1,000 fine and one year in jail for the first violation," the judge continued.

"The second offense could bring a $5,000 fine, five years in jail, and confiscation of boats," the judge warned.

Gex said both leases in question involved some 100 acres of bottomland. Klein said he expects to receive a determination later today from Leard and Demoran on whether or not the leases cover natural reefs.

the first modern coal-fired generating unit in the State of Mississippi. Some five years later, on May 31, 1973, a 500,000-kilowatt coal-fired generating unit was placed in service at Plant Jack Watson.

The first of two 500,000-kilowatt generating units at the Daniel Electric Generating Plant near Moss Point-Pascagoula went into service in mid-summer 1977. The plant will be oil-fired until late 1978 when coal will become the principal fuel.

Mississippi Power Company's aggregate installed generating capacity is 1,965,750 kilowatts, of which 950,000 kilowatts or 48.3 percent, is fired by coal. By late 1978, when Plant Daniel becomes coal-fired, 1,450,000 kilowatts, or 73.8 percent, of the company's generating capacity will utilize coal as primary boiler fuel.

During 1976, some 73 percent of Mississippi Power Company's generation was supplied by coal, 19 percent by middle distillate and residual oil, and eight percent by natural gas.

Daniel said the company's sources of coal and its type for Plant Watson, include medium-sulfur coal which is in greater supply, is less expensive than low-sulfur, meets the design limitations of the plant facilities, and fully complies with Federal and state environmental regulations. This coal is mined in Alabama, Illinois, and Kentucky.

Peabody Coal Company of St. Louis, Missouri, Alabama Fuel Sales of Birmingham, Abston Construction Company of Birmingham and Brookwood, Alabama, Delta Coals Inc. of Nashville, Tennessee-Addington Brothers Mining Company of Nashville and Grayson, Kentucky, are the primary suppliers of coal for Plant Watson.

In April, 1975, Peabody notified Mississippi Power Company that outside forces, particularly labor problems, prevented the firm from annually furnishing some 1.6 million tons of coal from specified underground mines. Mississippi Power Company disputed the claim and filed a breach of contract suit in Federal Court. The Court ordered the matter submitted to arbitration, and proceedings are expected to begin this year. The Company is currently receiving approximately 600,000 tons of coal per year from Peabody.

In addition to purchasing coal from its three contract suppliers, Mississippi Power Company buys coal and petroleum coke on the spot market.

Mississippi Power Company is receiving approximately 116,000 tons of coal per month from its contract suppliers. Coal and coke purchases on the spot market amount to between 70,000 - 80,000 tons per month.

In order to meet more stringent environmental regulations set up by federal and state agencies for newly-constructed electric power plants, low-sulfur coal from the western United States will serve as boiler fuel at Daniel Electric Generating Plant in Jackson County. In 1976, Mississippi Power signed two long-term agreements with General Exploration Company of Dallas, Texas, for the purchase of more than 26 million tons of low-sulfur coal from Colorado and Utah. This will be the first use of coal from the western United States by a member of the Southern electric system. Coal shipments, which will eventually reach 1.6 million tons annually, are expected to begin in May, 1978.

Alabama Power Company, acting as agent for Mississippi Power Company, is responsible for the purchase and delivery of fuel for the Greene County Steam Plant.

Of transportation of coal purchases Daniels said, Commercial Transport Corporation of Jeffersonville, Indiana, moves coal by barge from mine sites in Illinois and Kentucky to Plant Watson via the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, the intracoastal waterway, the Harrison County Seaway, and the Biloxi River. Coal mined in Central Alabama is barged by Commercial Transportation Corporation via the Black Warrior and Tombigbee Rivers to Mobile where it enters the intracoastal waterway and follows a similar route to the plant site.

The journey from the Illinois-Kentucky mine field to the power plant in Harrison County takes about 10 days while the trip from the Alabama mines requires approximately three days. Barge capacity varies between 1,500 tons and 3,000 tons.

Coal from Colorado and Utah will be transported by rail to Plant Daniel.

Four unit trains, each consisting of 100 coal cars, will be required by 1980, with each train having a capacity of 10,000 tons. Four separate railroad lines will be involved: Denver and Rio Grande Western, Missouri Pacific, Illinois Central Gulf, and Mississippi Export. The general route will be from southeast of Salt Lake City, Utah, via Pueblo, Colorado, Kansas City, Memphis, Jackson, Lucedale, and on to the plant site in Jackson County. The one-way mileage is approximately 2,000 miles and will require about five days.

Coal utilization and stockpiling are of import and of these facts Daniel said that Mississippi Power Company normally stockpiles a 120-day supply of coal at Plant Watson, or approximately 395,000 tons, based on a budgeted burn of 3,292 tons a day. When at expected generating capacity, the 250,000-kilowatt generating unit burns about 46 tons per hour and the 500,000-kilowatt facility consumes nearly 92 tons each hour.

Mississippi Power Company's annual use of coal as a primary boiler fuel has steadily increased since the first coal-fired generating unit at Plant Watson went into operation. In 1969, the first full year of operation, over 548,100 tons of coal were burned at a cost of $6.43 per ton, including transportation and handling charges. Last year, over 1.6 million tons of coal were used as boiler fuel for the two Watson units at a cost of $23.63 per ton, transportation and handling cost included. In this seven-year period, coal costs have climbed 275 percent.

It is projected that by the end of 1979 more than 2.3 million tons of coal will be used at Plant Watson and at Plant Daniel each year-nearly 50 percent more than present requirements.

Letters to the Editor

Fishing pier

I would like to address this letter to all the people of Bay St. Louis;

As I read the Sea Coast Echo on Sunday morning December 4th and saw where the American Legion Pier was going to be closed, it made me sick.

I have lived here in Bay St. Louis all my life and fished on the Bay.

I am only 27 years old and there are people older than that have done the same. The Legion Pier is one of the best for young and old. I have seen many happy faces when a nice fish would be caught.

Now this is going to be taken away because a small group of people are crying because a few oysters have been caught and unloaded there. If these people would think of others and try to help our town and give the citizens something to be proud of it would help the community.

I think when these people get up in the morning they take three steps backwards.

Yours sincerely,
H.N. Buster Thornton

Poems praised

Dear Sir:

As a Subscriber and reader of the Sea Coast Echo "for about 50 years," I congratulate you on the publication of the series of poems by Hazel Pano-Banister Selph. Your readers must appreciate their warmth, insight and understanding of God, nature, and humanity.

I knew the Banisters; was their neighbor on the Jordan River where I bought land 52 years ago from Mr. A. J. McLeod.

I was a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moreau, and have been a faithful follower of the Sea Coast Echo for a long time, but seemingly only too short a period.

As manager of the Southern Pine Association I often visited the Edward Hines Co. at Kiln until it closed.

From Saw Mill to the Waveland Oil and Gas Field took a long time. But they also serve who only stand and wait.

With best wishes to you and your publication, I am

Sincerely,
H.C. Berckes

terstate 10. The bid was accepted by the state mineral lease commission in Jackson last August, but until a special act of the legislature, to be introduced by Representative J.P. Compretta, is passed, payment to the county cannot be made.

Board members are to meet with Compretta and the legislative delegation of Harrison and Jackson Counties on Dec. 15, to work up proposals concerning wetlands leases where such fall on 16th Section lands.

Board member Louie Ladner remarked that often the purpose of the wetlands act is overlooked.

"The wetlands were created to assure the protection of wildlife," he said.

In other matters the board:

- Voted to investigate the sterilization methods being utilized by the kitchen staff at Gulfview School for the scouring of plastic forks now being used by students;

- Agreed to ask Harlan Hill, principal, Gulfview School, to permit smoking by adults attending basketball games in the school's gymnasium;

- Hired Shirley Robinson as a janitor at Hancock North Central High School;

- Rejected all bids received for anti-freeze;

- Read a letter into the minutes from Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. Bird, asking the bus be permitted to enter their house yard to pick up children, a request denied due to the house being less than one tenth of a mile from the roadway.

ning that the current allocation of funds for the expansion of the CAA into Hancock County was earmarked for planning a work program. This means that, until approximately April 1978, the staff will be taking a critical look at conditions in Hancock County and identifying things which need attention.

During April, a preliminary work program will be submitted to the Community Services Administration, detailing those things which are proposed to be funded. The new program year begins August 1, 1978. Please note that funding levels are determined according to a formula which takes into account the number of poor persons residing in the county.

Meanwhile, the winterization program can continue to operate; additional funds are expected, as was reported at the public hearing before the Board of Supervisors. Revisions to the guidelines are being prepared by the Community Services Administration, but existing guidelines continue to apply until further notice. Eligibility for weatherization is determined by family income, as follows:

Size of Family	Income	Non-Farm	Farm
1	$2,970	$2,550
2	3,330	3,330
3	4,890	4,170
4	5,850	4,980
5	6,810	5,790
6	7,770	6,600

For family units with more than 6 members, add $960 for each additional member in a non-farm family and $810 for each additional member in a farm family. There is presently a maximum of $250 allowed for each dwelling unit accepted for the program. Priority is given to the elderly poor. Owner-occupied dwellings are given preference, although rental units can be worked on provided the owner agrees in writing not to raise the rent or evict the tenants for a period of time equal to the amount of work done.

Adult Education - In an effort to upgrade educational levels of the out-of-school adult population, there can be programs in Adult Basic Education and G.E.D. training. Adult basic education is designed to improve comprehension but stops short of the G.E.D. test; G.E.D. training leads to administration of the test and awarding of a certificate. Efforts are made to provide counseling and special tutorial assistance, and to assist in placement into employment. In prior years, a stipend was paid to enrollees in the two programs to assist with such costs as baby-sitting. At present, enrollees are encouraged to use a child care facility at no cost while attending classes.

Neighborhood Service Center - A one-stop source of information and assistance, at the Center provides answers to inquiries about assistance, counsels families and individuals and/or make referrals to the appropriate source of assistance, and raises funds through volunteer activities. From this Emergency Fund, loans or grants are made in emergency situations, as for example, assisting a family whose belongings are lost in a fire. An increasing number of migrant farm workers who find themselves stranded are assisted to continue toward their destination rather than remain as dependents in the community. A thrift shop operates on donated clothes and anything else usable brought in; sales at extremely low prices are conducted at intervals throughout the year.

Consumer Affairs - The staff investigates complaints from consumers concerning such things as false advertising, bait-and-switch promotions, warranty problems, appliance and auto repair complaints, non-delivery of goods or services, or other related consumer problems. An effort is made to mediate a settlement, with a good track record to date. When apparent fraud is identified, complaints are made to the office of the Attorney General; two examples of such action leading to prosecution recently are Consolidated Buyers Club and Southern Land Sales.

Training sessions in consumer awareness are conducted, with the objectives of providing practical advice on buying, things to watch for, and ways to make better use of funds available by making wiser decisions in the market place.

Housing Counseling - Assistance is available in locating adequate housing, emergency housing, and packaging applications for Farmers Home Administration. Instruction is provided in proper care of the home, how to avoid foreclosure, household budgeting to assure payment of house notes or rent, and related matters. Liaison is maintained with the Department of Housing and Urban Development as well as the Farmers Home Administration.

Community Food and Nutrition for the Elderly - The agency operates one congregate feeding site completely funded by the Community Services Administration, providing hot meals, recreation and handicrafts. Four other centers are operated jointly with the Area Agency on Aging of the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District. Contractual arrangements have been worked out permitting this Agency to provide transportation and staffing for the elderly participants at these four centers, and one additional center is proposed. Information and Referral services for the elderly are already operated by the Agency under contract with SMPDD, including those in Hancock County. It is expected that SMPDD will conclude contracts with the Agency early in 1978 to provide additional services for the elderly in Hancock County.

Youth Employment - Each summer, the Agency administers the Summer Youth Employment Program, which puts approximately 500 youths to work for the summer. It is expected that the program could also be operated in Hancock County for a lesser number of students.

There is also a good probability that the Agency would be able to negotiate for additional CETA programs for Hancock County, such as the Youth Community Improvement and Conservation and Youth Employment and Training programs, both of which have been secured for Harrison County.

Economic Development - No to be confused with programs of the Economic Development District or the SBA, this activity selects a commercial venture which can be turned over to local ownership-management, as for example, food cannery or food coop, or a small seafood operation from boat to processing equipment. There must be a direct benefit to the poor community for which planned, and a good chance of continued successful operation. The Agency does not presently have such an operation in Harrison, but is considering several possibilities.

These activities listed are the major categories of programs, but there can be wide variations in each of them. Others will apparently be eligible for funding, and we are constantly looking for innovative activities. Close liaison is always maintained with other agencies so as to avoid competition for the same funds or clients.

VA pays vets to finish

It doesn't pay to drop out of school to join a military service, most recruiters advise. But if you did, and you want to finish high school or prepare for college entry, VA will pay you.

At least one out of ten Vietnam-era GI Bill students has received monthly checks and refresher or deficiency courses to qualify them for higher education under the GI Bill's "free entitlement" provisions, Marilyn J. Cook, Assistant VA Center Director for Regional Office, reported today.

More than 780,000 persons have taken advantage of the training opportunities without using any of their basic GI Bill eligibility. The trainees represent more than 11 percent of the seven million persons who have trained under the current GI Bill since 1968.

Eligible GI Bill students may receive full benefits while training for high school completion. Others who have completed high school but need refresher or remedial courses for entrance into training, also may take the necessary courses on a free-entitlement basis. This training is not charged to the maximum of 45 months educational assistance available to all veterans during the 10 years after release from active duty, but not later than Dec. 31, 1969.

A special outreach effort by VA benefits counselors during the past year was credited with a 23 percent increase in free entitlement enrollments. Repeated contacts are made with veterans with less than four years high school in an effort to interest them in training.

VA studies of veterans who use free entitlement show that more than 80 percent continue in other forms of training.

Complete information on all VA educational assistance programs is available at any VA office, or from veterans' service organization officers.

Lady Wildcats down Southwest Bears

Pearl River College's basketball teams played the role of winners and losers this past week.

Tuesday night both the girls' and boys' teams defeated Southwest. But on Thursday the tide changed and both were soundly defeated by Gulf Coast Junior College.

Fred Roane's Lady Wildcats beat the Southwest Bears, 62-57, on Tuesday night behind the 20 point performance of

The contest was close throughout the night with the Lady Cats taking a slim 31-30 margin to the dressing room. At one point the Bears led by 11 points in the second half but the She Cats fought back to win.

Tony Byrd of Poplarville was the second leading scorer, as she swished the basket for 14 points. Lynette Randall of Hancock North Central added 12 points.

Ginny Ott scored 19 points for Southwest and Linda Newcomb added 14.

Melvin Oatis had another good night for the Wildcats as he made a dozen baskets for 24 points in handing the Bears a 68-57 setback. This contest was probably the best showing for the Cats all year.

Elton Brown of Poplarville and Jeff Cross of Baton Rouge added 12 and 10 points respectively during the night. Henry Harrell was the game's leading scorer as he put in 29 points for the SW Bears.

Thursday night was a totally different story. The Gulf Coast girls beat the Lady Cats by a whopping 69-43 count and the boys were dropped by the same school, 75-52.

The PRC girls were never in the game as they trailed 33-21 at half and it continually got worse. The boys on the other hand were tied with the tough Bulldogs until the last 12 minutes of the ballgame.

Not one single PRC girl reached into double figures while the Gulf Coast team had Edna Purvis and Eileen Disher with 25 each and Cheryl France with 11 points.

At halftime of the boys game, Melvin Oatis brought constantly striving to overcome it.

SEA COAST ECHO-DECEMBER 8, 1977-1B

PRJC cites Brian Ladner potential 'great dunker'

Freshman star Brian Ladner of Catahoula, is now appearing as a featured basketball player with the Pearl River Junior College.

Ladner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Ladner, while at HNC was selected as Most Scholastic and Most Improved.

Classed by PRJC Coach Charles Rea as "...a bit inexperienced, but constantly improving," Ladner is a criminal justice major and is planning to continue his education at USM following two years at PRJC.

Rea claims that Ladner was under rated in high school and saw only limited play.

"This inexperience is his biggest holdback, but he is constantly striving to overcome it.

"This is basically a year of preparation for next year's season.

"Brian was held back in high school and now he's trying to adapt to our system. We're hoping he progresses quickly enough to benefit us this year with his height," Rea allowed.

The coach elaborated on his opinions concerning Ladner's potential.

"Don't get me wrong. Brian wasn't a deprived superstar when he was at Hancock, but I really feel he was under rated. Brian is constantly improving, he has a pretty good shot and is a good overall percentage shooter but needs to become a little more aggressive."

In speaking of Ladner's potential Rea said, "We're also trying to develop his jumping ability. Brian can occasionally dunk the ball, but with his height we'd like to make this practically a 'way of life' for him, and not something spectacular."

Rea said that Ladner is a very dedicated person and that he always tried to achieve whatever was asked of him. "Brian is a very dedicated boy. There's never been an occasion where he refused to do what I've asked of him. If he failed, it was just because he was unable to do it. PRJC Sophomore Center Elton Brown says Ladner is very well liked and a valuable member of the team."

Hancock North Central takes Pass tournament

Hawks set school records

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Hawks of Hancock North Central winning three games in less than 23 hours, won the Pass Christian Round Robin Tournament Saturday night.

After the final game, Hawk coach Roland Ladner, stated, "Coach Dale Moran's Pirates played a smart game, they were really quick, they made us work to score points. The Hawks were showing signs of tiredness because of playing three games in less than 23 hours. We made a lot of mental mistakes in the first half. There were times that we showed spurts of good play."

Finishing second to Hancock North Central, Pass Christian Pirate coach, Dale Moran had this to say, "We played a good ball game. In the three other games of the Hawks, they blew the opponents out early. The Pirates showed a lot of class."

Saturday night's game was the game of undefeateds in the tourney, when the Hawks and Pirates tangled, both having 3-0 records for the tourney. The Hawks held onto a 7 to 12 point lead throughout most of the second half to win, 91-82, with Pass Christian finishing second in the tourney.

By the end of the Pass tourney, Hancock North Central set three school records. The Hawks set a record with the 119 points scored against St. Stanislaus on Saturday afternoon for most points scored in a game. In that game the Hawks scored 44 points in a quarter, to set a school record for most points scored in a quarter. The third record was 104.5 points per game average in a tournament.

In the final game, the Hawks Allan Dedeaux was high scorer with 20 points, Mark Ladner 18, David Ladner 16, Barry Arcement 16 and Dean Shaw 13. Arcement had 10 assists with Allan Dedeaux and Dean Shaw 4 each. On rebounds, Pat Necaise had 8 and David Ladner 7.

Pirates scoring was led by Cullen Swanier with 19 points, Kevin Woods 18, John Whittman 17 and Carl Bowser 11. "We were pleased to win because Pass Christian was a district game and it means something in later parrings for the play-offs," commented Coach Ladner.

Coach Moran of the Pirates said that it hurt to lose his second leading scorer for the season when Carl Bowser broke his wrist in the championship game against North Central.

In talking about the Hawks, Moran, said, "They are well developed and fundamentally sound, they don't beat themselves. Coach Ladner has done a tremendous job throughout the years and I respect his ability and fine basketball coaching."

A review of Saturdays boy's games shows:

Tigers 72 - Eagles 51

It took Bay High's Tigers until the fourth quarter before they could pull away from a stubborn St. John team on Saturday evening to win pulling away by a score of 72-51.

Mike Thompson had a hot hand dropping 35 points through the basket, followed by Tony Bailey and Kenny Fricke's 12 each. The Eagles' Christ D'Angelo had 16 followed by Kirk Cuevas' 15, and Rick Rester 10 points.

Hancock North Central Hawks

Hawks 119 - Rocks 70

Coach Roland Ladner's Hancock North Central Hawks set a school record scoring 119 points Saturday afternoon. Dean Shaw dropped 36 points through the hoops followed by Allen Dedeaux's 28, Pat Necaise and Mark Ladner's 10. David Ladner and Moses Hill tied with eight rebounds apiece, followed by Barry Arcement's 6 and Mark Ladner's 4. Arcement had 6 assists with Pat Necaise 5, Dean Shaw and Byron Ladner 3 assists each.

For the Rock-A-Chaws, Charlie Vincent had 17 points and Kenny Blakes 14.

Hawks 91 - Pirates 82

The championship game won by Hancock North Central, 91-82, over Pass Christian Pirates.

Rocks 65 - Tigers 53

In the final game of the Pass Christian Round Robin Tournament, St. Stanislaus defeated Bay High, 65-53 on Saturday night.

Charlie Vincent scored 23 points, Kenny Blakes 18, and Cary Lang 11, for the Rocks.

Mike Thompson had 13 points for the Tigers, followed by Kenny Fricke's 11, and Tony Dailey's 10.

Hawkette slate stays spotless

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Coach Charles Grantham's Hancock North Central Hawkettes string of victories continues with the winning of the Pass Christian Round Robin tourney Saturday night. The victory didn't come easy, for the Hawkettes as the Lady Pirates coached by Jenny Ladner, fought them all the way to the wire losing by only 3 points, 43-40.

"We played the type of game we had to play. We swapped basket for basket with the Pirates. We weren't able to run like we normally do. Our Hawkettes did a good job shooting from the outside for our ninth victory of the season", stated coach Grantham.

After the final whistle, lady Pirate coach Jenny Ladner, made these comments, "It was a heart breaker, what hurt us was that we missed the easy layups. It was our toughest game of the season. We will be looking forward to our next encounter with the Hawkettes, possibly in the Bay High tourney or district play-offs."

The lead changed with every basket throughout the game. The Hawkettes would take a point lead and then the Pirates would take a point lead.

It wasn't until the closing minutes the Hawkettes were able to pull out by a few points. It was by far the best girls' game of the tourney. The stands were evenly balanced with Hawkette and Lady Pirate supporters who were giving their favorites moral support.

It was only the second set back of the season for the Pirates. There were two girl games played Saturday.

Tigerettes 44 - Eaglettes 36

Charlene Haynes scored 11 points and Karen Fricke 10 points to lead Bay High Tigerettes to victory over the St. John Eaglettes Saturday evening.

St. John high scorers were Tracy Houston with 11 points and Bobbie Hahn 10 points.

Hawkettes 43 - Pirates 40

In the final girl's game for the Pass Christian Round Robin Tournament championship, the Hancock North Central Hawkettes defeated Pass Christian Lady Pirates, 43-40. The excitement of the game had fans on edge for the entire contest.

Sheila Ladner was high scorer with 19 points and Joye Nell Lee's 12 for the Hawkettes. Pirate Robin scored 11 points followed by Luella Fairconetuf's 10 points.

GETS REBOUND - In the game that decided the girl's champion between Hancock North Central and Pass Christian Saturday evening, Sheila Ladner, 40, comes down with the rebound. North Central fought hard for a 43-40 victory over the tough Lady Pirates. Sheila Ladner was selected to the Pass tourneys all-tournament team.

CORNER SHOT - Carl Bowser, 25, Pass Christian Pirates, scores from the corner in Pass Christian's victory over St. John's on Friday evening. Bowser scored 19 points in the Pirate victory. In the final game against Hancock North Central Saturday evening Bowser broke his wrist and will probably see no more action this season. The Pirates took St. John 82-61.

Military Mentions

SGT. H.N. JARREAU, USMC - Marine Sergeant Henry N. Jarreau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Jarreau of 100 Hursey Ave., Pass Christian, has reported for duty with the Naval Air Reserve Training Detachment, Belle Chasse, La.

He joined the Marine Corps in August 1972.

AMN D.L. SAUNER - Navy Airman Recruit Drew L. Sauner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Sauner of 400 East Old Pass Road, Long Beach, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Orlando, Fla.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid.

A 1977 graduate of Long Beach High School, he joined the Navy in September 1977.

DRIVING FOR BASKET - Barry Arcement, 44, of North Central drives around opponent for a score as teammates and Rock-A-Chaws check to see if he releases. Arcement's drive was good for two points. In this game won by the Hawks, Arcement had 9 points, 8 rebounds and 8 assists helping to set a school record in scoring a 119-70 victory over St. Stanislaus.

ONE ON ONE - Charlie Vincent, 20, of St. Stanislaus goes in for layup against David Ladner, 15, of Hancock North Central Saturday evening. North Central won the game and Pass Christian Round Robin Tournament.

AWAIT REBOUND - Mike Thompson, 24, of Bay High Tigers and Kirk Cuevas, 55, of St. John's wait for rebound in Saturday's contest between the Tigers and Eagles. The Tigers won on a fourth quarter surge 72-51. Thompson and Cuevas were both named to the Pass tourney's all-tournament.

LADY PIRATE SCORES - Up and off the floor this lady Pirate strikes for two points in the final ladies game of the Pass Christian Round Robin Tournament Saturday. The Lady Pirates and Hancock North Central Hawkettes locked horns in a basket swapping contest before the Hawkettes took a three point victory for the tourney championship.

MANEUVERING FOR POSITION - Bay High and Hancock North Central girl's basketball players all seem to be jockeying for position in case ball headed for basket misses Friday night. The Hawkettes won the game, 77-32, and then went on to win first place by taking a close one from the lady Pirates, 43-40, Saturday.

Pass all-tournament players named

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Allan Dedeaux and Joy Nell Lee of Hancock North Central were named most valuable players for boys' and girls' in the Pass Christian Round Robin Tournament last week.

Hancock North Central boys and girls were awarded first place trophies with Pass Christian boys and girls taking second place.

Participating in the tourney were St. John, Bay High, St. Stanislaus, Pass Christian and the champs Hancock North Central.

Picked in addition to Dedeaux on the boys' all-tournament were teammates Dean Shaw and Barry Arcement. St. John placed Kirk Cuevas and Bay High's Mike Thompson. Pass Christian placed two players on the star group, Cullen Swanier and John Whittman. St. Stanislaus players chosen were Charles Vincent and Kerry Corr on the elite team.

On the girls' all-tournament Shelly Dedeaux and Shelia Ladner joined Hawkette Lee. The lady Pirates also placed three, Theresa Cannon, Robin Roberts and June Ward. Charlene Haynes was named from Bay High with Juliette Lindsey being chosen from St. John.

All tournament players in the Pass Christian Round Robin Tournament received a trophy with Hancock North Central receiving two tourney winners trophies and Pass Christian receiving two second place trophies.

Wildcats ...

The Wildcats to within one basket, Oatis scored 10 points and the Cats were behind 32-30 at the break.

The teams exchanged baskets in the second half and with about six minutes gone were still tied 38-38. That's when the bottom fell out for the Wildcats. Gulf Coast reeled off 18 unanswered points before the Cats managed one single basket.

PRC even went without a free throw shot during that period. Coach Bob Weathers had 10 Bulldogs to score in the contest. Steve Simpson was high with 15 points. Oatis was again high man for the Wildcats as he collected 16 points. Elton Brown had 12.

Pearl River played Jones Tuesday night on the road and will face Hinds at Raymond on Thursday. The Wildcats will then take off for Christmas Holidays until Jan. 10, when they meet Utica here at the coliseum.

GAME CANCELLED

Hammond, La. cancelled their game scheduled on Tuesday, Dec. 6 with Hancock North Central Hawkettes. Coach Charles Grantham's Hawkettes were looking forward to playing the Louisiana champs of 1976-77 season.

Harvill outdoors

By Donald Harvill

By DONALD HARVILL
The salt water fishing has started to taper off, but a few specks and reds are still being caught locally. The best bet seems to be trolling with artificials or live bait fishing, if you can find some live bait.

The fresh water fishing has been fairly good, but is rather slack at present, due to the weather conditions and the muddied water in most of our bayous and rivers.

The coon season opened Monday, Dec. 5. Coon hunters may hunt at night with a light and use a gun no larger than a 22 Cal. The hunters must also be accompanied by a dog, and hunting from a vehicle is strictly prohibited. A two coon limit will be in effect this year. This season will be statewide.

The primitive arms season will open this Saturday, Dec. 10, and will run through the 21st. The primitive arms hunter will be allowed to shoot deer of either sex, but if the hunter wishes to shoot an antlerless deer he must have a special antlerless deer tag. This season will also be statewide.

Duck season is presently closed but the second season will open this Saturday, Dec. 10. The point system is as follows: Canvasback - 100; Hen Mallard; Wood Duck; Black Duck; and Redhead-75; Drake Mallard, Mottled Duck, Ring-necked Duck, Goldeneye, Widgeon, and Ruddy Duck-25; Pintail, Gray Duck, Shoveler, and Scaup-10 points.

BAYOU CADDY - Some specks and redfish were caught Friday and Saturday in the La. Marshes. The fishing wasn't very good on Sunday. Our local fishing isn't good now because of windy weather and the overflowing of the Pearl River. The water is messed up and unsettled. I went fishing last week and didn't even get a nibble.

(Wilford Bordage, Bordage Bros. Marina)

JOE'S BAYOU - A few fish are still being caught in the Jourdan River. The best fishing is being done now by trolling with artificials and dead bait. Some fish are still around but they bite better on live bait. We are out of live bait and won't have any until next spring. The water is clear and pretty but the fishing is slackening off. We have frozen bait. (Mrs. Allie Cospelich, Joe's Bayou Marina.)

PEARLINGTON - We had the Tide Water Bass Club from Keesler Field here Saturday for a tournament. There were a lot of nice bass caught. There were 9 boats in the tournament with 2 people per boat, participating in the tournament. First place was taken with 8 pounds of bass. The fishing wasn't very good Sunday. The river is still muddy, with a little current, but it should clear up in about a week. (Roy Baxter, Pearl River Marina.)

KILN - A few fish are still being caught. Some men caught some green-trout on live minnows while pond fishing at White Cypress. A lady from Jourdan River

Shores caught some bream over the weekend. The river is still messed up, but a few specks are still being caught. We still have live shrimp and minnows. We now open at 5:30 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. We close at 1 p.m. on Tuesdays and Sundays. (Andy Ladner, Andy's Baitshop, at Kiln Supermarket.)

BAY ST. LOUIS - We don't have any fishing news. The weather has been too unsettled for fishing. Our fishermen will have to brag about their past catches. There hasn't been much hunting since deer season closed. (Mr. Ed Symmes, Sportsmen's Paradise)

ANSLEY - A few hunters went out and killed a few ducks. There were not many people fishing over the weekend because of the weather. There are still a few fish biting though. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Strahan from Herron Bay Estates caught 50 nice specks Saturday. One boat went out Sunday and caught some specks. A few fish were caught by trolling in the bayou with artificial baits. A few fresh water cats are being caught in the river, also some bass in the canals and bayous. (Mrs. Toxie Hall, LaFrances Fishing Camp.)

Music Who's Who

taps Smith and

Ferrell of BHS

Two students from Bay Senior High School have been selected for inclusion in the 1977 issue of Who's Who in Music.

Melinda Smith of 541 Commagere Boulevard, and Carolyn Ferrell, 1010 Spanish Acres Drive, both Bay St. Louis, have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding high school music students.

Nominated by Glen Page, music director, BHS, the pair were selected on the basis of their musical ability, academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

Santa comes by boat to Pass parade

Santa Claus will arrive by boat 10 a.m., Saturday, Dec. 17, at the Pass Christian Yacht Club.

His arrival will be followed by the annual Rotary Club Doll and Toy distribution.

Santa, riding on a fire engine, will parade through the Pass, with stops being made at the Miramar Lodge Nursing Home, the Dixie White House Nursing Home on Menge Avenue, and the War Memorial Park.

Distribution of toys at Camille Village will start at 12:30 p.m.

A special feature of the parade will be a music combo playing Christmas carols.

The Christmas game session, the last game session for 1977, will take place on Monday, December 12, at 1:30 p.m. Don't miss this event. Yours Truly, who contacts the various merchants throughout the year for donations, promises to make this last game session an outstanding one.

The various classes at the center, and many of our senior citizens throughout the year, have been more than generous with their contributions.

We will have three door prizes, a ceramic Christmas tree, donated by the ceramic class; a Great Frying Machine, donated by the Food Discount Center in Bay St. Louis; and Mayor John Longo and Mrs. Longo of Waveland will donate the other door prize.

We will have an array of gifts for the game session, one, we hope will please all winners.

The fourth Monday being a holiday (Christmas) the Senior Citizens Center will be closed. We normally hold our Birthday party on the fourth Monday therefore, we will have all Senior Citizens who have birthdays in December at the game session.

The special prize for the lucky winner of the birthdays drawing will receive two chicken dinners and cold drinks—donated by—Danny's Fried Chicken on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis. Ronnie Slocum, Manager of the A&P Store in Bay St. Louis a special thanks to you for donating ice twice a month this past year for our ice tea and punch.

To all merchants in Hancock County who have donated gifts this past year, we have acknowledged their contributions after every game session with a special thank you.

To Ellis Cuevas, Jake Jacob, Edgar Perez and the rest of the personnel at the Sea Coast Echo, a personal thank you is not enough for the cooperation you have given the Senior Citizens Center for all activities throughout this past year. Your paper has published verbatim all news relating to all Senior Citizens on a weekly basis. The expression of gratitude extended to this writer by all Seniors who read Senior Citizens Happenings, I pass along to every one at the Sea Coast Echo, because I think if you bring satisfaction to all who read, any column, you have accomplished a worthy contribution to your community, and that my friends is what you have done in publishing my column every week.

KILN

The Senior Citizens Center will hold their birthday dinner and game session Thursday, Dec. 8th at 12 noon. All Senior Citizens 60 years of age and over in the Kiln area are invited to participate in this event to be held at the V.F.W. Hall. This will be the last event for the year, lets have a big turn out in support of your club, and help the December Senior Citizens celebrate their birthdays with gusto.

PEARLINGTON

The Senior Citizens Club will hold their Christmas Dinner at the Community Center at 12 noon Wednesday, Dec. 14. The Seniors who attended the Thanksgiving dinner enjoyed a wonderful dinner. They have good cooks in that area. I can attest to that. The Dinner is for Seniors from Pearlington and their invited guests.

Fip Johnson and his versatile country and western band will furnish the music.

ILLNESS

The Senior Citizens who are hospitalized at the present time are as follows: Guy Brady, Lillie Hoda, Patrick Sims, Nora Boudreaux, Rosie Kennedy, Joseph Johnston, Emile J. Lacoste, Jr., Gertrude Normand, Mable Allen, Christina Savoy, Peter Taranto, St. Claire Locke, Katie Osborn, Randolph Lind, Gus Garcia, Tania McQuillan, Katherine Shubert, Wallace C. Colly, Mary Matthews, Celia Ladner, Elma Joubert, Juanita Stechman, Jennie LaRose, Arthur Bingham, Henry Poillon, Angelo Guillano and Marion Armitage.

To all of the above we wish you a speedy recovery.

French exchange teachers sought by Ms. Southern

The Department of Foreign Languages at the University of Southern Mississippi is accepting applications from persons interested in participating in a teacher exchange program with France, according to Dr. Editha Neumann, chairman of the department.

Neumann said applicants should be advanced undergraduates or graduate students and preferably, but not necessarily, prepared to teach English as a second language. There are no accommodations for dependents and married students are discouraged.

The exchange post carries virtually the same duties as does a Fulbright teaching assistantship. It differs from a Fulbright in that USM is assured of placing its candidate or its alternate candidate.

The candidate selected from USM will assume teaching duties in a lycee in France for the academic year 1978-79 and will be paid a salary by the French National Office of Education. Teaching duties normally include 12 hours per week instructing American English. Participants in former years have been assigned either to La Rochelle, a coastal city in the Charente Maritime, or to Douai, a city with old-world charm near the Belgium border.

Neumann said interested persons should contact her at USM not later than Jan. 13, 1978.

nounce the birth of their fourth child, a son, John Harvey, Jr., born Nov. 2, Gulfport Memorial Hospital weighing six pounds, 13 ounces.

The mother is the former Patricia Coddington of San Antonio, Texas.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Harvey of Bay St. Louis.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Harvey of San Antonio.

Maternal great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Coddington, County Mayo, Ireland.

Rummage sale planned by Altar Guild

Our Lady of the Gulf Altar Guild met Thursday, Dec. 1, in the rectory with Mrs. Irene Hille, president, presiding.

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held December 10 and 11 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day in OLG parish hall.

A social hour followed the business session with Mrs.

Velma Heitzmann and Mrs. John Damborino as hostesses.

Other members attending were Mesdames Josephine Cacioppo, Ivan Bradford, Elsie Chapin, Octave Delph, Leonide Cabell, E. M. Brignac, Rosalie Benigno, Alden Mauffray and Juliette Cook and Miss Alberta Beyer. The next meeting will be the first Thursday in January.

Pass gardeners mark Christmas

BY MARYON SPILLMAN
The Pass Christian Garden Club held its Christmas party Dec. 1 at the home of Mrs. Howard Haines. Mrs. Haines' home was beautifully decorated in keeping with the season.

In observance of the upcoming holidays, members dispensed with the order to focus full attention on the main event of the day - a silent auction. A wide variety of items absorbed the attention of the members and guests ranging from paintings to a chess pie complete with recipe. The auction closed at 5 p.m. and the winners announced.

It was then difficult to determine which was the more appealing - the lovely tea table with its festive decoration or the sumptuous array of delicious food prepared by co-hostesses: Mrs. James A. Williams, Mrs. James McQueen, Mrs. Harry Wittmann. Miss Adele Bliebenberg, Mrs. William Brunson, Miss Claire Knott, Miss Marjorie Knott, Mrs. Justine Kuhn, Mrs. Louis Levy, and Mrs. Theo Moore, assisted by Mrs. Caroline Gale, and Joyce Hughes.

A fitting closing remark by one of the guests summed up the event perfectly: "Such festive activity truly sparks the Christmas spirit."

INVITATION TO BID

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

HANCOCK COUNTY

TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED

IN THE FOLLOWING LANDS

SITUATED IN HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, TO WIT:

Tract 1: Beginning at the Northeast corner of Section 18, Township 5 South, Range 14 West, thence South 1.48 chains; thence West 1.48 chains; thence North 1.48 chains to the place of beginning, situated in Section 19, Township 5 South, Range 14 West, Hancock County, Mississippi, and containing 0.23 acres.

Tract 2: The Northeast Quarter (NE 1/4) and the Northwest Quarter (NW 1/4) of Section 12, Township 5 South, Range 15 West, Hancock County, Mississippi, and containing 320 acres.

Notice hereby is given that the Board of Supervisors of Marion County, Mississippi, has authorized and invited the submission of bids to lease an undivided one-half (1/2) interest in and to the oil, gas and other minerals under the above-described lands designated as Tract 2 for purposes of oil, gas and mineral exploration, mining and development, and for an oil, gas and mineral lease under Tract 1 for a full interest therein.

Separate bids may be received for each of said tracts or for both of said tracts under one bid. Formerly, said lands constituted in lieu "school lands" which had been properly selected and set aside in lieu of portions of 16th sections situated in Marion County, Mississippi. However, said Tract 2 above-described was sold and conveyed into private ownership, subject to the exception and reservation of an undivided one-half (1/2) interest in the oil, gas and other minerals therein which reserved undivided one-half mineral interest still is owned and held in trust for the use and benefit of the educable school children in various townships of Marion County, Mississippi.

The Board of Supervisors of Marion County, Mississippi, has prescribed the form of a proposed oil, gas and mineral lease covering said reserved undivided one-half (1/2) mineral interest; and has prescribed also the royalty to be retained by the lessor, the annual rental to be paid by the lessee, the primary term of the proposed lease, and all other provisions of the proposed lease. The only item subject to bid for the proposed lease is the amount of the bonus to be paid by the lessee. A true copy of the proposed lease form containing all the terms and provisions so prescribed by said Board of Supervisors is on file and available for inspection by any interested person in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Marion County, Mississippi.

Any person interested in submitting a bid for the proposed lease on one or both of the above-described tracts is hereby notified and invited to file a sealed proposal therefor with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors (who is the same person as the Chancery Clerk) of Marion County, Mississippi, at his office in Columbia, Mississippi, on or before 9:00 o'clock a.m. on the 3rd day of January, 1978. All such proposals so filed will be opened by said Board of Supervisors at said time or as soon thereafter as is conveniently possible at and during a regular monthly meeting of said Board of Supervisors, and thereupon, subject to the approval of the County Superintendent of Education of Marion County, Mississippi, said Board of Supervisors will award the proposed lease to the highest bidder in the manner provided in law.

Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

This the 5th day of December, 1977.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

Let the library help you... WITH DECORATIONS

Books of practical suggestions and plans are on the CHRISTMAS TABLE. Sit in the comfortable reading area and browse through the Christmas magazines.

WITH THAT CHRISTMAS BOOK

Examine and borrow books on the Christmas display before you buy. Consult the librarians about the individual tastes on your list.

WITH IDEAS FOR ESTABLISHING A FAMILY TRADITION

The Bible opened to the Christmas scripture on a special table through the advent season, perhaps with a crèche or home-made candles you came make - or - A family reading of: Dickens' Christmas Carol, 'Twas the Night before Christmas

These are all books a family should own, but borrow and enjoy the library copy to help you decide what edition you would like.

WITH A CRAFT PROJECT

Let the children make the Christmas dinner mats - silver bells to hang at the door (from tiny foil plates) - star decorations for the tree (from paper cups and old Christmas cards) treat pine cones for color - glow for the fireplace. Books - and the librarians, can tell you how.

WITH EXTRA READING TIME

Share with the school-age children home for the holidays. Make a family trip to the library to choose their books.

WITH CHRISTMAS GOODIES

Browse through the cook books and magazines for recipes - gingerbread house - fruit cakes - gifts for the neighbors.

WITH CHRISTMAS CAROLS

The library has them, too.

Buccaneer Crew Notes

By DIDDY QUINLAN

Last weekend's activities started Friday morning with our hobby horticulture class. This was our first meeting during which members collected materials. Their project was a wreath made of dock, a native weed. But many let their imagination take over and returned with a variety of materials with which to make the wreath. Then Mrs. Wilma Miller instructed the class in the technique of arranging and securing the decoration. Next week members will return with their finished wreaths to share with the class. New participants are welcomed and should bring a pair of comfortable, old shoes and a sharp knife or pruners. Saturday some campers from south Louisiana - those fun-loving Cajuns again - enjoyed two hours of volleyball. It's amazing how the closest of families can pick and fight over a few points on the volleyball court. But that's part of the fun.

And Saturday night, a National Geographic special, "Grizzly", was shown in the recreation hall. An hour-long film on the most complete research on the grizzly bear was interesting, informative and entertaining. A repeat performance... was shown Monday night. Next week's film is "Journey to the High Arctic", another National Geographic special on the beauty, adventure and peril of that unfamiliar territory.

Tuesday nights exercise class (at the time of this writing, as yet unheld) is planned around the aerobic program developed by Dr. Ken Cooper. This is a fitness program which can be geared to any age level. The class begins with warm-up exercises and then a walking program. Each week the walking will be longer and-or faster. Gradually as fitness is improved, more strenuous exercises will be planned.

And Wednesday night's Basketball class will have been an introductory class. Mrs. Jennifer Smith, a delightful Yankee, now living in Bay St. Louis will have shown a variety of projects which can be made in the class. She also will have instructed participants on materials to be used in future classes.

Next weekend's activities will include a nature walk - leaf collection - bird watching outing and a variety of Christmas games, as well as our Saturday night movie.

'The Messiah' is Keeleer AFB

Yule Production

The public is invited to the twenty-fourth annual Gulf Coast presentation of Handel's "The Messiah" Friday, Dec. 9, at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 11, 2 p.m., Keeleer Air Force Base Chapel No. 2 (corner of "H" and 2nd St.). The chorus consists of more than 130 voices, and is conducted by Adam Ortiz, music chairman, Jefferson Davis Junior College.

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra will be performing with the chorus under the direction of James Shannon, concert master. The soloists are sopranos Lucille Harrington and Sally Telford, altos Bryd Cassibry and Lillian Thompson, tenors Jan Douglas and Burnice Parker, and basses James Cutrell and Richard Moore.

Handicrafters stage Christmas festivities

Clermont Handicrafters met Thursday, December 1, at Scafield's Wheel Inn Restaurant for its annual Christmas party and luncheon.

Prior to the luncheon a brief business session was held with Mrs. A. M. Thomas, president, presiding.

Mrs. Thomas presented the thought for the day, "What sunshine is to flowers smiles are to humanity," and Mrs. Roseann Ross read a poem entitled "A Little Bit of Christmas."

Door prizes were won by Mesdames Rita Martin, Viva Smith and Irene Graff; Mrs. Thomas was the winner of a crocheted purse.

The first meeting of the New Year will be January 5 at the Clermont Harbor home of Mrs. H. W. Duke.
